CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER.

A restraining order was granted by the District Court on Monday, in the matter of shutting off the connection of the Commercial street sewer with zanja No. 3. The argument on the question of granting a perpetual injunction will be heard in a few days

This is a matter of the utmost importance to a large portion of the population in the lower or Southern portion of this city, and now is the time to settle this question definitely and finally. That the sewage matter from the city must be carried off by a main sewer, made for that purpose, is a necessity acknowledged by all. Then why delay it? The health of the city millions. demands it, and the good sense of the authorities should not allow it to be delayed one day. We know it is a difficult and expensive work, but it will cost no more now than it will a vear hence. Our credit is good, and ten year bonds can be readily sold at full prices to meet the expense. Many of our citizens below town are compelled to use zanja water for domestic purposes.

It is astonishing how rents keep up Notwithstanding the unprecedented number of buildings that have been put up in this city during the last six months, rents are still rising. It speaks well for the prospects of the city, but it is awful on poor tenants. We rejoice at the prosperity of our property holders and hope they may always realize a fair percentage on their investment, but they must remember that there is such a thing as over-shooting the mark. It is the working, industrious class of people that make the prosperity of a city, and so long as the expense of living falls below the income, they will conthey can earn, leaving nothing to lay all with uniform politeness and kindup for a rainy day, immigration stops. The property owners are always more all. Like master, like man; his subdirectly interested in the growth of a ordinates are careful, courteous and city than any other class; therefore, bling entanglements under the man-Los Angeles. There has never been a time when a fair rent could not be obtained for comfortable buildings, and now it is simply "ask and receive."

King of the Lobby.

SAM! Though full of the extreme influences of European civilization, he is a thoroughly American product. Once a wealthy banker, he is a penniless politician new. The widower of one and lives like one. It is said there is a poetical sensuality about his name that makes a Senator, or Congressman's mouth water. They associate it with ortoldus, truffeed capons, canvas-backs and pampanos, of Burgundy and old Bordeaux, with a golden bowl full of Cognac. Though penpassed to the satisfaction of the bankers. This was a new occupation to SAM, and his stock in trade consisted of a pliable conscience, a pleasant temperament, a good knowledge of cal taste.

The first dinner I ever gave here was to a party of twelve—nine Republicans, two Democrats and myself. On that day Gen. Garfield had a quarrel with Jim Brooks, and Fernando Wood another quarrel with Gen. Schenck. I learned of these quariels on the afternoon of the dinner day and immediately hurred to Welcker's and changed all the seats of the party, so that Garfield should sit by the side of Brooks and Wood by the side of Schenck. I ordered Welcker to serve his very best hock with the oysters, a noble old sherry with the soup, and an exquisite Chateau Yquem with the fish. I knew that would be a fair start. The glasses were always kept full, and in less than a quarter of an hour after the dinner had begun. Garfield had concluded peace with Brooks and Wood with Schenck. When another bottle of choice old Johannisberger had been drunk they not only shook hands with each other, but were ready to drink Brüderschaft. It is my usual policy not only to be friends with everybody but to reconcile those who show any inclination to quarrel among themselves; and there is no better means of doing so than by giving them a fine meal and fine wines.

In a few days I had another party of twelve, more stately than a dinner of M. C's. The first are always more recherche, and I believe I look myself more dignified upon such occasions. With the members of the House, on the other hand, a free and easy way is admisthe other hand, a free and easy way is admissible, and the dinner contains, as a rule, one great dish specially prepared for the occasion, the rest of the bill of fare being of the usnal character. For instance, I will sometimes serve them a ham. I soak it for four days in water, changing it four times a day, then boil it five hours in cider with a wisp of new hay; then I baste it with brandy, sherry, or claref, according to the weather, and when they have tasted a slice of that ham, why, they will ness tasted a slice of that ham, why, they will pass any damned thing I want in Congress! "A good deal of my success in Washington is due to my policy outside of Welcker's. I have unlimited freedem of access, eyerywhere, because I give no trouble to anybody. FOOD AND ATTENTION.

In Los Angeles I heard some complaints about the food furnished on some of Goodall, Nelson & Perkins' steamers, and one lady assured me tention to passengers. What may have happened on other steamers, I do not know, but neither one nor the is loaded with the substantials and luxuries of the season and more attentive and obliging waiters I have never seen. I can recommend the Orizaba, her officers and her table to GOING EAST. General Crook and your townsman, . W. Hellman and family, are stopping at our house-the Lick-and tomorrow evening a grand reception Gen, Crook and the rest of us-that "rest of us" sounds rather loud, and I may as well admit that but for Gen. Crook the thing would not come off On Wednesday morning Crook, Hellman, Mott, Forster and many others leave for New York.

SAN FRANCISCO. San Francisco has made tremendous strides in the way of huge buildings and money-getting within the past year. I shall not attempt to enumerate the many large edifices that have grown up since I left the city, one year ago. There are hundreds of them! I have met a number of fellows whom I used to see at free-lunch tables, who now do not see either me or the free-lunch spread. They went up on the big bonanza. But, per contra, I now see several fellows about the freelunch that I never saw there before. The big bonanza flattened them out.

THE POLITICAL CAT Is jumping around quite brisk, but beyond meeting 75 or 80 candidates for Governor, I have not learned much of pussy's movement. Shall know more when I have learned more.

LEWIS LEWIN.

Thirty days have gone by since the "Important" commenced selling out. A great many persons have bought such as dry goods, clothing, boots, shoes, etc., and everybody that did buy will tell you how well pleased they are and what bargains they received. Our orders for Spring goods were sent to our buyer in New York in January and February and part of them we are receiving now. They are without a doubt the prettiest and nicest goods ever brought to this city, and we wish the public to please bear in mind that all new goods will be sold at the same reduced prices. Do not fail to stop in, examine our stock, hear the prices, and you will say the best and cheapest place to buy goods is at the "IMPORTANT,"

Another auction sale of building lots is on the tapis. The property is located on Hill, Olive and Charity streets and includes twenty or thirty fine lots. The sale will come off in a few days.

It is reported that Mr. Scott and another gentleman, both from the Venango oil regions of Pensylvania, have leased the oil refinary at San Fernando. The refinary is already in good working order, we believe, but has not been running for sometime.

We learn that on the Laguna near the Stearns ranche and this side of Anaheim, there are myriads of young grasshoppers to be seen. As yet no damage to the crops has been reported and we hope the band of marauders and we hope the band of marauders and looking towards the are only on a short visit.

One of the sensations of yesterday was the serenade by the ladies and gentlemens' silver Helicon band of the Alleghanians from the balconey of United States Hotel. The music gathered a crowd of engrossed listners and produced a fine effect.

How they smiled! This city was full of pleasant faces yesterday morning presented by those who had read the Herald editorial on Tyranny. They thought with Mark Toppey that there might be some credit in being jolly after all.

Rev. Mr. Batt from Massachussets called to see us yesterday. He started to California with an invalid brother last fall, who died on the way not far from Acapulco. Mr. Batt spent the Winter in Humbolt County, and comes to visit Los Angeles before returning home.

The New Italy for April will be issued Saturday. As usual, it will be full of interesting matter relative to Los Angeles county, and just the thing to send abroad. It is also an excellent advertising medium, and our business men should appreciate it as such and award it a share of their patronage.

The saloon-keepers, case, the city vs. Joe Williams, was appealed to the County Court, yesterday. The Defendants gave bonds for the $20 fine imposed upon him by Mayor Beaudry. It is generally understood that the case will not step short of the Supreme Court.

The auction sales of the Santa Gertrudes lands fixed for the 19th, 20th and 21st of the month have been unavoidably postponed in consequence of the ilness of the surveyor and the managing agent Mr. Edward McLain. The postponement contemplates the sale of the property on the 26th, 27th and 28th of May.

In consequence of the improvements soon to be made in the Lafayette Hotel building, Messrs. Meanwhile they are selling goods down, down, down. Ladies, go and see for yourselves.

A boy about twelve years of age named Job Bryant, son of Constable Bryant will be arraigned before Mayor Beaudry to-day on a charge of malicious mischief. Temple, which was of remarkably accurate execution and true to life in every feature. It was drawn by Mrs. Millen, wife of General F. F. Millen, late a resident of our city. This talented lady is acquiring an enviable reputation as an artist, and we understand that she has a number of plained. I had then in use in my orders ahead to furnish portraits for other prominent men of our city.

Turn-Verein Hall was again crowded last night on the occasion of the third appearance of the Alleghanians in our city. The programme was changed from the previous evenings, introducing many new and attractive parts. But the main interest centered as before in the bells, the musical tumblers and the silver cornet band. Such exquisite music, one never tires of hearing but learns better to appreciate at each repetition. The singing was also up to the standard and Sam Collins performed his funnyisms to the universal amusement. The audience was dismissed in the best of hu-

A novel funeral procession passed the city yesterday en rout for the cemetery. It consisted of three wagons; the first of which contained the corpes, that of a Mexican child-and the parents of the deceased; in the second were four musicians - two violinists and two drummers-and of the third contained about a dozen friends of the family. Arrived at Wolfenstein's photographic gallery the procession halted, the corps was taken into the gallery and a photograph of the dead child secured, together with a groupe of four young ladies who stood above it. The solemn cortage then reformed and proceeded to the cemetery where the remains were deposited.

Col. M. S. Hall, the contractor on the San Bernardino extension of the Southern Pacific Road, favored us with a call yesterday. The Spelling Match

The second spelling match last night was well attended and was on the whole a success. Messrs. Smith hand, which adds very materially to and Brierly were chosen captains, and | the usefulness of this system. after considerable time wasted in giving excuses for not spelling, a class was formed and the fun began, Dr. Lucky pronouncing the words. He commenced by giving some ordinary words, which had very little effect on the property of the property the wary spellers. By request, Mr. Campbell marked a number of words in a spelling book and handed it to in a spelling book and handed it to the Doctor. This had the desired ef-fect. "Dessiccation" proved a stum-bling block to five of the spellers. "Quadrilateral" induced as many more to retire, and the few survivors were requested to spell "charivari." Mr. Newbill objected; objection over-ruled by Dr. Lucky, and Mr. Newbill retired without a struggle. Mr. S. Another Tract in the Market.

We are pleased to call attention to the advertisement of the Washington tract of city lots, which appears in another column. This tract possesses great advantages over many of the land projects which have been offered to the public. The Spring and Sixth street railroad runs almost to it, the street railroad runs almost to it, the furthest portion of the tract being within 500 feet of the terminus. A beautiful and easy drive will be made by way of Temple, Hope and Third streets in a few days, as only one small gulch will have to be crossed, and Mayor Beaudry, the owner of the tract, with his characteristic energy, will have this filled up before the day will have this filled up before the day of sale. Water, in inexhaustible quantities, can easily be supplied from the Beaudry reservoir, with a pressure of over 100 feet. We doubt not that the owner will pipe the water to this locality in a short time. Beautiful residences are already quite numerous in thir portion of our city and with the generous supply of water which Mayer Beaudry can easily furnish no finer building sites or more desiorus neighborhood can be found.

Insane.

The champion whistler was arrested yesterday on the charge of insanity. An investigation into the case by Dr. McKee, the city physician, proved a curious state of mental aberration. The man's name is Michael Joseph McLaughlin, and he emanates from at the time employed as a sick-nurse across the river. Nothing was saved from the flames.

We are beginning to doubt the reliability of the shipping reports presented by our evening cotemporary.

HERALD: I have for some time meditated a contribution to your column, and now attempt to comply. On the last day of the last Teacher's Institute a call was made, without previous notice, for opinions and suggestions on the subject of monthly reports on the standing of pupils in the schools. According to my recollection, specimen cards of two different kinds were exschool, a system differing entirely from those, which I did not bring forward for the reason that I was the only teacher, as far as I knew, who used it, and I had exhibited it to one teacher, who did not approve of it. However, I should have exhibited it, if I had had one of my cards with Without further preface, I will proceed to explain my system, which, however, I do not claim as entirely original. It is, in fact, a leaf from Bancroft's "Pupils' Diary," adapted to the purpose of a monthly report. I had used Bancroft's "Pupils' Diary" with good results and with these objections; it was put up in pamphlet. jections: it was put up in pamphlet form with pages for ten months, which necessitated such long continued handling that, with the majority of pupils, they became disgustingly soiled and in many cases came to My system is a diary for one month, combined with a report of attendance, deportment and scholarship in each separate branch pursued. It is so ruled in vertical columns as to give a column for each school day in the month, with a column for totals and one for per cents at the right hand, and one for the branches pursued on the left hand margin. In the vertical columns the pupil places, after each recitation, the number of credits authorized by the teacher, the standard of perfection being five. It will be seen that if the pupil is in attendance without loss of time and has perfect lessons his total will be 100 in each essons, his total will be 100 in each branch; as, also, in attendance, and his percentage will correspond with his total. In short, every teacher or other person who will look at the diary with interest can easily understand the standing of a pupil in every point of which it is important to be informed. At the bottom of the diary the teacher informs the parent the num-ber of days school was kept open during the month reported, the number of days the pupil attended, and the number of days the pupil was late. This diary, after the totals and per cents are made up and other blanks filled, is sent to the parents for their instruction. instruction and signature, the signa-ture of the parents being simply an evidence that the parents have looked at it. The teacher is thus enabled to lay before the parents each month an accurate account of each day's work of his child, kept by his child's own

For what if at first, it is soiled, and the figures are large and awkardly made, "My child did this work with with its own child's hand;" " and it is signed by its teacher; it is a faithful exponent of what he is doing every day when he is away from me." How anxiously the loving mother will look for marks of improvement in the Monthly Report! How carefully the child or youth will keep his diary and guard it from dust and drops of ink that will sometimes unaccountably that will sometimes unaccountably run down of the pen!

While using this diary I keep no class book, except one in the form of a diary. I have a stone book slate of suitable size; and, cutting the list of studies printed on the left hand margin of a blank diary in proper shape retired without a struggle. Mr. S. P. Smith managed to get through it safely. This left the contest between Mr. Smith and Miss Minnie Hall, a pupil in one of our public schools. Mr. Smith gallantly mis-spelled "reprieve" leaving Miss Hall the victor. An integralistic of 30 minutes was then any content of the class whose diary I keep on that page. Thus, after a recitation is finleft for the names of the members of the class whose diary I keep on that page. Thus, after a recitation is fin-ished and the credits awarded I open to the diary of the class, and, in the column for the branch in hand, I enter the credits awarded to each pupil. The use of this class diary is, to correct any errors the pupils may make, and to keep account of deportment tardiness. Before dismissing school I open my diary and call the roll of the roll of classes, and each pupil answers by giving a report of the credits and by giving a report of the credits en-tered in his diary for his lesson; at which time I give him his credits in deportment and he enters them on his diary.

In the morning the class diary of the previous day is rubbed out and you begin with a class slate. I claim that this is a much handier system than the class-book system, requiring less work, and bringing the whole into a more compact form. It secures emulation in a greater degree, the pupils are at all times perfectly informed how they stand; and properly used, must secure habits of neat-ness in the use of the pen.

The parents appreciate it, as bring-ing them into an intimate relation with the school, and as giving them positive information of the work of their children in school. But its use is necessarily limited to the class of the first and second grades. Indeed, I have found it quiet impracticable to grade the recitations of the lower classes; and content myself with good deportment and attention. I send you inclosed some copies of my Diary and Report that you may pass your judgment upon its merits, and, if you consider it worth your while, I would be glad to have your opinion on it.

(1) April 2th 1885 opinion on it. W. S. REAVIS Los Nietos, Cal., April 8th, 1885.

At the last Teachers' Examination in San Francisco there were forty nine applicants for certificates, of whom twenty-four failed entirely. Only seven first grade certificates were granted. So far as heard from there was a general failure throughout the State. A few more such examinations will greatly diminish the number of of teachers. While we are in favor of a high standard of qualifications we think that the State Board of Examination should exercise more judgment in preparing questions.
